DEAD BY DAYLIGHT™

THE WRAITH

Hoping for a new beginning, Philip Ojomo ready to take on a job at Autohaven Wreckers. It was a small scrap yard where bribed cops turned a blind eye for somewhat shady business, but as long as Ojomo wasn't involved, he let things be. It was not until one gloomy day that he, just by accident, saw some blood coming from one of the un-crushed cars.

When Ojomo demanded answers, he was told that he'd been helping killing hundreds of people. Ojomo snapped and went ballistic. He threw his boss in the crusher and let it slowly compress, as the head stuck out, Ojomo grabbed it and pulled head and spine out of the body.

Then he left and was never seen again.
