New Survivor: Lara Croft

Lara Croft is a highly intelligent and athletic British archaeologist who ventures into ancient tombs and hazardous ruins around the world.

While an archaeologist, Lara is no stranger to supernatural evil, she knows that raiding the most elusive tombs leads to the darkest dangers. Her personal perks Relic Hunter, Salvager and Tomb Raider allow her to hunt down items, keep her equipment in good condition, and make an escape from the killer with her loot.

Role: The Athletic Adventurer

Relic Hunter

Years of raiding and spelunking have left you an expert in finding even the most hidden of treasures. After cleansing a dull totem or opening a chest, the auras of any items, totems and chests within 40/50/60 meters are revealed to you for 3/6/9 seconds.

"Everything lost is meant to be found." - Lara Croft

Salvager

Your experience stranded in harsh situations has taught you the value of the maintenance of your tools, no matter how weak they may appear, you can always find a way to repair and improve them. Once per Trial, after repairing a generator for 60/50/30 percent of its total repair progress, you may restore 15/20/25 percent of your current tools charges.

"It's not a party until something gets broken. – Lara Croft

Tomb Raider

This isn't the first time an evil force has gotten between you and your escape after claiming your prize. Once per trial, when holding a tool, press the activate ability button to trigger the Haste Status effect for 3/5/7 seconds. Tomb Raider causes the Exhausted Status Effect for 60/50/40 seconds.

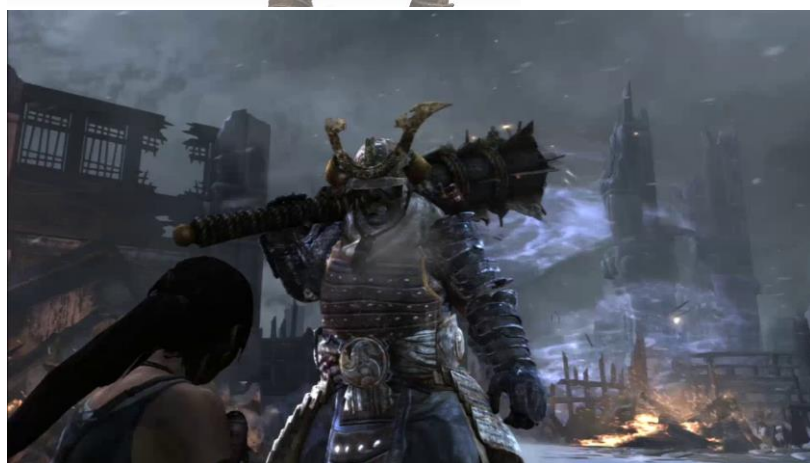

Tomb Raider cannot be used when Exhausted.

"Anyway, Busy Girl. Got to Go." - Lara Croft

ATLANTIS – THE GREAT PYRAMID (TOMB RAIDER 1 / TOMB RAIDER: UNFINISHED BUSINESS)

A remnant of a civilisation long gone. The inside of the Great Pyramid appears to be a complete living organism, rather like the inner walls of a womb. Walls made of flesh pulsate on floors of organic hard material.
