

Future Diary Chapter:

Killer:

Yuno, The Obsessed

Power: Lovestruck

Yuno becomes empowered by her obsessive love, granting her extreme abilities and quick wits.

Holding the ACTIVE ABILITY button will activate Lovestruck. Yuno will swap out her pair of scissors for a sharper and deadlier knife and is granted a short burst of quick movement speed while laughing maniacally but cannot vault while in Lovestruck.

Lovestruck is only active for 3.5 seconds and the movement speed decays over time.

During Lovestruck, Yuno may press the active ability again to SLIDE against the floor. Sliding and then basic attacking will grant Yuno a larger lunge.

Sliding into Pallets will cause them to break but end Lovestruck immediately.

Yuno cannot turn while Sliding.

Yuno can injure all survivors during Lovestruck BUT can only down survivors who have a large enough THREAT level.

Secondary Ability: Threat

Yuno learns who her enemies are in order to protect herself and the one she's loves. Under no circumstances shall they live.

Yuno is undetectable to all survivors who are not afflicted by THREAT.

Yuno can hold the SECONDARY ABILITY button to stalk survivors.

Stalking survivors will grant Yuno increased movement speed while they are still in her line of sight. This movement speed increase over time if the stalk chain does not end.

Once a survivor is stalked enough, they will become inflicted with THREAT.

The survivor can now hear Yuno's terror radius.

Yuno is granted killer instinct to all inflicted survivors within her terror radius.

Yuno can now use LOVESTRUCK to down survivors who are a THREAT.

THREAT disappears from a survivor over 80 seconds.

Passive Ability: Yukiteru Diary

Yuno holds a special Diary that tells the future of her lover, but the entity has morphed this weapon into something more.

Yuno gains battery life for her YUKITERU DIARY for every survivor she downs with LOVESTRUCK. Once the battery is full, an global audio cue will be heard and Yuno will be in Lovestruck form for 20 seconds and will be able to down survivors without Threat. SLIDE is put on a 4 second cooldown.

Apperance: Yuno appears in the game with her pigtails and school uniform. She is bloodied and has an innocent look until she is in Lovestruck form.

Yuno carries a simple pair of scissors, a quick weapon that can be found anywhere and keeps it to her side. But she swaps the scissors out for a knife when in Lovestruck form and keeps the knife closer to her chest.

Yuno will laugh maniacally while in lovestruck form and run zigzag like.

Perks:

Goddess:

After damaging a generator, breaking a pallet, or destroying a door gain a 3/4/5% haste effect for 10 seconds.

This perk has a 40/30/20 second cooldown.

"I was practically dead, but you gave me a future. Yukki is my hope in life, but if it won't come true then I will die for Yukki, and even in death I will chase after Yukki."

Hex: Just A Game

When the match starts, the furthest survivor from you has their aura revealed for 4 seconds and the survivor is marked with "pawn status"

Once you hook a "pawn status" survivor the perk will reset and grant "pawn status" to any other survivor currently not on a hook. That survivor's aura is revealed to you for 6 seconds.

Gain a token for each "pawn status" survivor you hooked up to four tokens. Once you reach four tokens, this perk will activate. The entity will close this hex totem on the map for 15/20/25 seconds and all undropped pallets and window vaults will be closed by the entity for 60 seconds.

"Everything in this world is just a game and we are merely the pawns."

Insidiously Cruel:

You become obsessed with a survivor.

When your obsession is nearby within 16 meters, an audio cue will play.

While in chase with your obsession, all other survivors on the map will have a 6/9/14% penalty of repairing generators, cleansing totems, blessing totems, looting chest, and healing.

Hooking your obsession will transfer the obsession to any other survivor.
